Hello. Yes, you can share Astrid's story with them. If they want to contact us, they can. We have an outbreak of Covid at our house right now, so we're all just resting.

Thank you,

Desiree Nesloney

Hi Desiree,

I hope this email finds you well. Attached is the letter we sent to the FDA back in January containing Astrid's story.

The HighWire ran Maddie's story last week (<https://thehighwire.com/videos/rigged-maddies-story/>) and is considering doing a follow-up segment to show that Maddie is not alone. We would like permission to share the details of Astrid's story with the HighWire and to share the letter we sent. Additionally, if you are interested in speaking directly with the team at the HighWire about Astrid, please let me know and we can share that with ICAN.

Please email me back to confirm that we have permission to share the letter publicly through the HighWire and/or through ICAN.

Regards,

Gretchen Elgersma, PA-C, Medical Paralegal
